

January 5 -- Genesis 16-18

Sarai isn't getting pregnant, so she takes matters into her own hands and gives her servant girl to Abram as a wife. Hagar the servant conceives and gives birth to Ishmael. The LORD promises Abram again that Sarai will have the covenant baby and changes their names to Abraham and Sarah. The LORD appears to Abraham in bodily form with two angels to foretell the coming baby who will be the hope of generations to come.
